Farther northwest along the Cambodian border, North Vietnamese gunners shelled a dozen allied camps, but casualties and damage were reported light. U.S. intelligence officers foresaw no immediate attack on Saigon.

Repulse Charge

Moving under cover of a heavy mortar attack, enemy infantrymen charged the 25th Division camp 14 miles southeast of Tay Ninh. They were driven off after nearly three hours by a massive barrage from armored personnel carriers, helicopter gunships and artillery. Six Americans were reported killed and 22 wounded.

Meanwhile, South Vietnamese paratroopers and militiamen skirmished with hundreds of enemy soldiers who invaded Tav Ninh, a key provincial capital 45 miles northwest of Saigon.

AP correspondent John T. Wheeler reported from the U.S. combat center in Tay Ninh that a Communist defector told interrogators there were three regiments-about 7,000-in and around the city.

Board Rejects Reinstatement Of Bus Routes The possibility of a court battle over school buses in the Escanaba Area school district lcomed today after the Board of Education Tuesday night rejected a proposal designed to secure immediate resumption of the student transportation program. Attorney Nino Green, director of U. P. Legal Services, Inc., Escanaba, confirmed this morning that a lawsuit against the Board of Education on the bus issue is being considered. Green, who represented 12 rural families in an appeal to the school board for resumption of the buses last night, said a suit could be filed in Circuit Court for Delta County, possibly later today.

He said, however, that every possibility of avoiding litigation is being explored and that suit would be brought only after "we are confident this is the only avenue open.'

No Deficits In rejecting a motion to restore the buses by Trustee Daniel Wellman, Ford River, the Board of Education by a viously-stated position of not operating the school district with illegal deficit budgeting.

Voting against the motion were Ralph Kaziateck, Charles Tooman and Albin Pearson Jr. and former Kentucky Gov. A. The transportation program was one item in cutbacks totaling over $200,000 made by the Board of Education since the Aug. 19 defeat of the school millage proposal. The defeat was the fifth straight on a millage issue in the district.

In another 4 to 3 vote with members lining up the same way, the school board resolved to encourage citizens to petition for another millage vote at the Nov. 5 general election. The proposal would be for 4.9 mills for one year and the Board of Education indicated that if petitions were presented asking an election, passage would result in restoration of transportation and all other program cutbacks instituted.

Action by the board came after two hours of heated debate in the Escanaba Area High School auditorium. An estimated 400 residents turned out for the meeting, about 400 more than normally attend school board meetings in the school administration building. States Position

The meeting also was broadcast live by radio station WDBC, the first live broadcast of a school board meeting in Escanaba in over four years. Green, who spoke to the

Step Up For Jobless

Following the riots in Detroit last summer. the automobile companies opened employment centers in the inner city. In less than a year, a total of 12,000 residents of the ghetto were hired. But a great many others were found who simply couldn't be put to work.

Here is the experience of one company: "I though I knew what 'hard core' meant, until we became involved in this area," says Chrysler Corporation president Virgil E. Boyd. "I was wrong. Hard core refers not to those without steady jobs but to those not equipped for any job. Not the unemployed but the unemployable — those unable to fill out even a simple job application."

Working with the federal government, Chrysler launched a two-year experimental program to take some 750 of these people and give them whatever training necessary to make them employable.

This does not involve instruction in operating a lathe or a drilling tool. It means teaching them to read such elementary words as "in" and "out" on a door. It means teaching them to spell the names of colors so they can read the instruction card that tells them to put a blue or a green steering wheel on a car as it comes down the assembly line. It means teaching them simple addition so they can count boxes of parts as they take them off a supplier's truck.

Unfortunately, a lot of the people enrolled in the program failed to show up, and many of those who did report were very late.

Company officials nodded their heads. This certainly proved what they had known all along: People who aren't working just don't want to

But the company began investigating, and what it learned was a revelation.

It found that these people were isolated in a veritable backwater of society. Many of them had no Social Security number, had never been counted in a census, had never registered to vote, belonged to no organization. In most of the accepted senses, they didn't even exist.

It found that many didn't show up because they just couldn't read the destination signs on

It found that many who showed up late had never owned an alarm clock and had never had to be at any particular place at any particular

It found that one in five of the unemployables was rejected for physical reasons and that 40 per cent of these were rejected because of

It found that many of them suffered from fear, resentment, hostility and a history of fail-

It also found that, despite their lack of education, the majority of them fell within a very acceptable I.Q. range.

So they were taught and treated and fitted with glasses and taken into the plants and shown people just like themselves who owned cars and clothes and houses because they worked and showed up for work on time every day.

In 12 weeks, the first 44 hard-core unemployables were on the job. At a recent date, only one had been lost. This is far better than the company's walk-in employment record.

"We have made an important discovery," says Boyd. "We have recognized that it is not only possible but definitely to our advantage to help the chronically unemployed, and that with a lot of help, and some patience, they will help

Viet Citizens Make Contact With Cong

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) -Word reaching this correspondent from the highest levels in Saigon is that a number of South Vietnamese of very high standing are attempting to make personal contact with the Viet Cong hierarchy to explore the possibility of peace.

The men seeking contact are making this move as private citizens, not as government officials.

It is known, however, that they have the unofficial backing and encouragement of the South Vietnamese government and of high U. S. government

The names of the men secking this contact cannot be disclosed. But it can be said that they are men of unimpeachable motives, patriotism and public standing. They are in no sense fellow travelers. They are loyal South Victnamese.

They are bound by no rigid formula.

Core members of the South Vietnamese government have done a great deal of soulsearching the past six months or so on what kind of a peace they would agree to and how to go about getting it.

There is a strong antipathy over dealing with Hanoi. There has been a growing belief in the desirability of dealing directly with the Viet Cong.

* * * This trend has been strengthened by increasing evidence of serious splits within the insurgency. Antagonism is growing between the Viet Cong and Hanoi. Ho is downgrading Viet Cong officials in the south, replacing them with North Vietnamese Communist regulars. Ho's regular army units are taking over more and more of the war. It is becoming clear to many VC that the war is being fought for Hanoi's ends, not theirs. Numbers of low-and middlelevel Viet Cong leaders have grown disaffected with the insurgency operation. whole There is strong evidence that a good many VC would like to shuck the whole war but don't know how

The talks now being sought are an attempt to give these VC an honorable way out.

This strategy is based on the belief that 90 per cent of the Viet Cong are not Communists, but ordinary Vietnamese. As mentioned above, it assumes that many, or most, are now disillusioned by Ho's Communist rule.

Though no decisions have been made, it is understood that a good many of the top leaders in South Vietnam now believe some way must be found to allow members of the Viet Cong to participate fully in community life and to run for and hold office as individuals in popularly elected governments.

Some South Vietnamese officials are understood ready to allow the ex-VC to organize a political party, provided it agreed to work within the law and seek office through free elections.

South Vietnamese leaders are dead set against a coalition government. They believe a coalition would give the Communist organization direct channels to secretly subvert the old-timer of the team, the government from within.

The summer national championships of the American Contract Bridge League have just been held in Minneapolis. As a preliminary event a team representing the Twin Cities played a 72-board match with IMP scoring. The match was an exact tie with Montreal after the 72 boards and Minneapolis won by four IMPs in an eight-board playoff.

Montreal had the better of game and part score hands but Minneapolis gained enough to win by the right slam con-

The bidding, rather than the play, is important in today's South has no trouble picking up the queen of trumps at a heart contract. The club finesse works for him also but the diamond ace behind dummy's king so that he has to lose two diamond tricks.

The first three bids were the same at both tables. Minneapolis expert Dave Clarren, chose three hearts as his rebid over Larry Oakey's two spades. Larry continued to four hearts and there was considerable trepidation among the home town crowd while Dave thought. He thought but he wisely decided that his hand did not warrant any further bid.

At the other table the Montreal North rebid to three spades instead of three hearts. Everything would still have been fine if he had chosen to pass when South went to three no-trump. Instead, he bid four hearts. South had the values for a further bid but might well have contented himself with a bid of five clubs which would surely have led to a five heart sign-off by North, but South jumped to six hearts

Five hearts would have been a mighty poor contract. There is no extra bonus given to a pair that stops between game and slam. It would have been a poor contract but it would

George insists the dog was sick when we brought him and he refuses to pay the $100. I called George a cheap jerk and a few other names which he richly deserved. My husband is mad at me. He says maybe the dog was sick and that he's going to forget about the $100. I say his brother is a crook and we should keep on his back until he pays. What do you suggest? - EDNA

what do you think, of a super markets

You know they cost less, but you don't think they're as good as the nationally famous brands?

Well, we can't speak for all super market brands, but we can tell you there is one that's as good as the nationally famous brands. Yes, that's right...the A&P Brand.

Prove it, you say.

All right, take our A&P Frozen Vegetables in Butter Sauce. They're prepared only from Grade "A" vegetables, the best...you can't use better.

The butter sauce is made from 93 score butter. And you can't buy a higher score butter.

Quality like this is typical of every product that bears the A&P Seal.

You see, A&P Brand products have everything the nationally famous brands have... except the higher price.

Since the A&P Brand can be bought only at A&P, shouldn't A&P be your store?

DETROIT - The Tigers are safe enough now to make it for a week without guidance from here. Let's turn to the Lions. You remember the Lions? They're the people who always dominated the Detroit scene this time of year. This year they've been mysteriously quiet - even their barroom brawls have been successfully hushed up. Seems they're No. 2 in town and they don't enjoy it, but what can they do?

On to the Lions. Their general manager, Russ Thomas, happens to be my most severe critic. He claims I'm trying to be general manager of the Lions, I retaliate that he'd really like to be an editor and touch up my articles.

Russ made a trade last May which had to be made. It was absolutely necessary for them to have a new quarterback. We agreed there. He got Bill Munson from Los Angeles. We agreed there.

Munson was the best quarterback the Lions could get. We disagreed on the rest. I felt the Lions gave up too much for Munson. I felt he could have been acquired for less than Pat Studstill, Milt Plum and Tommy Watkins PLUS a cherished No. 1 draft choice. I claimed Munson was due to become a free agent anyway. He could choose his new club. The Lions didn't have to give up all that much to get him. Especially Studstill. Thomas said the Lions did have to give up that much to get him, were lucky they didn't have to give up more.

It made a great football debate over the summer. A necesmary trade became a controversial issue.

Then Munson arrived in training camp. He took a football and threw it in a perfect spiral. That was something different. He took the football and threw it into the hands of somebody whose job it was to catch it. That was something different,

Munson took a football team and inspired confidence from its members in the quarterback. That also was something dif-

One day Thomas and I were discussing Munson.

"I regard him among the seven best quarterbacks in the league," Thomas said for openers. "What do you think of the

When I stopped giggling, he asked me to name the seven best quarterbacks in the NFL. I started briskly.

"Johnny Unitas, Bart Starr, Sonny Jurgensen, Roman Gabriel . . . err . . . Don Meredith . . . aaaah, Fran Tarkenton . . . I don't think Frank Ryan would rate that high . . . I never eared for John Brodie."

Thomas started giggling.

"Bill Munson," I uttered in abject surrender.

I have decided, after considerable thought, that the Lions be better this year, Munson really, did not do well in the will be better this year. Munson really, did not do well in the exhibition games. He was good in one, very good - and ordinary in his other two. Already, he's been hurt some and if he doesn't get any more blocking protection he's going to get punch

But the Lions will do better, simply, because they have a settled quarterback situation for the first time since 1956. Don't remind me that they won the championship in 1957, I know. Michigan State's football squad year-old flanker who caught 488 That was the year the Lions brought in Tobin Rote to share is scheduled to take a trip to passes in an 11-year career, the quarterbacking with Bobby Layne. They take the dullness out of the Lions - and that is what There will be only a single a fine young kicker in Don Taylor. the Lions have been dull

Sure there has been squabbling in the front office between Thomas and Joe Schmidt. It is true Schmidt once quit for four Lansing against Syracuse. days and returned and also true he felt the Lions gave up too much in the trade for Munson.

team than anybody in years. His closest friend is Alex Karras, coaches have been busy movement of all quarterbacks — the opposition's and especially ing players like chessmen to enemy of all quarterbacks — the opposition's and especially ing players like chessmen to his own. Once Karras angrily fired his helmet across the locker fill positions left open by injurroom at Melt Plum's head. He, too, was off target.

There was one byproduct of the trade for Munson. LA gave the Lions a No. 3 draft choice along with Munson. Thomas and Schmidt took the No. 3 and traded it to St. Louis for Billy Gambrell, a flanker built in the style of Studstill.

Munson and Gambrell for Studstill, Plum, Watkins and a No. 1 doesn't look so bad now. All the Lions need now is some bodies to keep Munson from being slaughtered.

SWEATY CHANGE - It was a different kind of sweat for Dick Williams last season, The Boston Red Sox manager was leading his club to the 1967 American League pennant in a tight race. This year, however, the Red Sox are virtually out of championship contention. Now, the sweat is confined to pitching batting practice. The anguish has changed from mental to physical.
